

Dietrich Blandow was born in 1937 in Cottbus. After he studied at the Technical University in Dresden from 1958 to 1964, mastering in engineering, and receiving his first doctor's degree in 1969 (Dr.paed.) at the same university on his thesis called "Sequence of steps in analyzing and synthesizing technical systems", he made his second doctor's degree (Dr.sc.paed.) with his thesis "The theory of analyzing and synthesizing technical systems" (1971). In 1974 he was appointed as Professor of Technology (mechanical engineering) for the department of Polytechnical Education at the College of Education in Erfurt/Mühlhausen. At the Technical University in Ilmenau he received his doctor's degree (Dr.Ing.) on his thesis "Experimental studies on action principles, exemplified by the development of an E.P.R.-Spectrometer". He was appointed Visiting Professor at the department of Practical

Arts and Vocational-Technical Education, University of Missouri, Columbia, USA. From 1980 to 1990 he was chairman of the Academic Council of Polytechnical- and Work-oriented education at the Ministry of Higher Education and Science and Corresponding Member of the Academy of Pedagogical Sciences of the former GDR. Dietrich Blandow is a member of various Scientific Advisory Councils and temporary work groups and in 1988 he became a member of the INISTE/UNESCO Network in Paris. Since 1992 he has the position of a secretary of WOCATE, World Council of Associations for Technology Education in founding.

Vormgeving en druk:
Reproductie en Fotografie van de CTD
Technische Universiteit Eindhoven

Informatie:
Academische en Protocolaire Zaken
Telefoon (040-47)2250/4676